

TO INVESTIGATE AIRPLANE ACCIDENT

GOVERNMENT PROBE OF ACCIDENT THAT COST SEVEN LIVES

Army Curtiss Eagle Ambulance Crashes to Earth in Storm at Morgantown Saturday Night—Five Army Men and Two Civilians Are Killed—The Air Service is Criticized

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 30.—Appointment of a board of three officers of the army air service to investigate circumstances of the accident in which five army men and two civilians lost their lives when a big army Curtiss Eagle ambulance airplane crashed to the earth in a severe storm near Morgantown, Md., Saturday evening, was announced today by Major M. F. Scanlon, commandant at Bolling Field.

Captain W. C. Ocker, caught in the storm while flying here from Langley Field in an S. E.-5 single seat plane, is senior member of the board. The others are Lieutenant P. C. Wilkins and Lieutenant LeRoy Wolfe. They will endeavor to determine whether the crash was the result of any defect in design or equipment of the airplane, or of any mistake or mismanagement on the part of the pilot, Lieut. S. M. Ames, and whether the five army men met death in line of duty.

Flying officers stationed in the city and at Bolling Field asserted emphatically today their belief that Lieutenant Ames had not "lost his head" in the storm and therefore been in a measure responsible for the accident. He was one of the best and coolest pilots in the service and was familiar with the big Curtiss plane, they declared. They were also inclined to discredit reports that the wrecked machine was defective in design.

Visits Scene of Wreck.

The board visited the scene of the wreck today and took the testimony of persons who were nearby when the Eagle crashed. They made a careful study of the wreckage and afterward had it burned, as it was considered unsanitary.

It seemed probable that the details of the accident would never be known. An examination of the personnel of the victims showed that six of the seven watches had stopped at 6:20 p. m., fixing the exact time of the crash, it was believed beyond dispute.

Major T. C. Turner, in charge of marine corps aviation, it became known today had a narrow escape in the same storm which caused the wreck of the Eagle.

General Mitchell today reiterated the statement that Saturday's accident furnished a dramatic illustration of the need of centralized control of aeronautics. Properly marked air ways, frequent landing fields, directional wireless communication with planes in the air and hourly weather reports are the outstanding needs of aviation today, he asserted.

Single Control of Aviation.

They can only be obtained through the country, he said by placing all aviation under a single control. The United States is only 40 per cent mapped aerially, he added.

"What we need is a congressional study of the aviation situation from the standpoint of air," said the general. "The older officers who do most of the testifying on the subject, are not fliers for the most part."

The United States, General Mitchell said, has about 400 military airplanes of all types available, most of them obsolete. The present concentration at Langley field in preparation for the joint army-navy bombing tests next month represents the nation's real aerial strength he declared, adding that the army entirely lacks modern pursuit planes. Great Britain's air service is organized into 27 squadrons of varying size, with reserves, more than three thousand machines, the officer asserted and is being increased by seven squadrons. Japan is organizing an air force of one division of 1,200 ships for combat and hundred observation planes, he said. Japan already has about 500 airplanes in service and is buying more of the most modern types, he added.

General Mitchell asserted the United States could maintain a force of more than 3,000 aircraft with the more than $100,000,000 appropriated last year for all forms of government aviation.

BLUE AND GRAY ARE UNITED

FRENCH PEOPLE PAY TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN DEAD

Principal Address Delivered by Ambassador Wallace

(By The Associated Press)
SURESNESE, France, May 30.—Full military and civic honors were paid today throughout France to the American heroes who died for their country, by the soldiers of France, government officials, American, French and other allied veteran and patriotic organizations and French Orphans. The principal ceremony occurred in the American military cemetery here in the hills overlooking Paris from the west.

Before American and French troops and hundreds of Americans and French who overflowed the cemetery Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador and Major General Henry Allen, commander of the American forces on the Rhine, paid America's homage, while Marshal Petain and two French deputies spoke for the army and government of France. Ambassador Wallace struck a responsive chord when he said "could I have my way these graves would never be disturbed."

Marshal Petain, echoed the American ambassador's expression of infinite regret that France could not always care for all those Americans who fell on her soil.

Meaning of the Cross.

"Here as elsewhere else we realize the meaning of the cross. Where men have died for men we mark each grave with a sign of Him who died for all. Could I have my way, these graves would never be disturbed," Ambassador Wallace said.

"I intend no disagreements with those gold star mothers at home who asked that the bodies of their sons be returned, but I think that in following this natural impulse, they may have acted without full understanding of the true conditions."

"Could they be with us here today and see what I see, they would not deprive their boys of their places in this field of honor, where glory guards solemnly around the dead. Every cross before us marks the grave of a hero who died that others might live. Each is a symbol of earthly sacrifice, for which there is reward. Let us, therefore, praise these dead, but not pity them, for theirs is the higher state."

Children Decorate Graves.

As the other speakers concluded, the headquarters band of the American forces in Germany struck up a funeral march as a procession of fatherless children of France carrying the American flags slowly wound its way thru the silent graves and placed on them modest bouquets of daisies, poppies and corn flowers. Madame Millerand in the name of the children of France brought a huge set piece of poppies, and the representatives of other delegations and the officials placed their flowers, all of which were banked high on an imposing centrepiece in the center of the cemetery. In his address General Allen spoke with evident pride of the deeds of the American dead.

"In this consecration, on this memorial day, our first return to the commemoration of the dead who fell in our interlocking struggle," he said, "but the exploits of our crusaders, fighting side by side with French and allied heroes and moistening with their heroic blood the historic battle fields, will ever be the supreme epic of history."

"America's sons who fell upon this soil with hundreds of thousands of French, British and Belgian patriots made the greatest sacrifice for the greatest cause. To them we bow our heads in gratitude when the egotism and selfishness of states are clashing with the noblest principles of reasoned civilization let us be consecrated to righteousness and justice. May the conduct of the United States in the trying days of reconstruction be based on the altruistic principles that motivated its participation in the world war."

Ceremony Opened With Prayer.

The ceremony began with a prayer by Dr. Goodrich of the American church in Paris.

"The Star Spangled Banner" and the "Marseillaise" were sung.

Three battalions of French Infantry, three squadrons of cavalry and two batteries of artillery surrounded the cemetery.

Fort Morgan, Colo., May 30.—Paul Jones, local business man, swung his golf club so hard in making a drive today that his right arm was broken when he failed to hit the ball.

Thousands March In Memorial Day Parade

NEW YORK, May 30.—Tens of thousands of veterans of the Civil War and World Wars marched today in parades throughout Greater New York in honor of the dead they had left behind them on the crimson soil of battlefields and under the white-flecked waters of the sea. Joining hands with them beneath the stars and stripes were the patriots who during the recent conflict went to the front in the khaki of Canada, the kilts of Scotland and the horizon blue of France.

Out in the Hudson the flagship of destroyers joined in the chorus with the bark of its one pounder which echoed off the Palisades and the great stone homes of Riverside Drive by which thousands marched in the greatest of the many parades.

Hundreds of grey-haired warriors who defended the union in '61 headed the parade. Age had bent low the shoulders of many of these heroes of Gettysburg and Bull Run, but they dressed their ranks and spiritedly obeyed the command "eyes left" as they passed the reviewing stand.

TRY TO PROVE THAT SHOOTING WAS DONE SOME PLACE ELSE

Chester Defense Would Impeach Mrs. Blanche Ryan's Testimony

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 30.—The defense of Densel Chester, on trial charged with the murder of Miss Florence Barto, a local society girl by a supposed highwayman last October while motoring with Howard Winter, her fiancé, spent today attempting to prove the shooting did not take place where Winter said it did, to impeach the testimony of Mrs. Blanche Ryan, state's witness, and to indicating an attempt at establishing an alibi for the defendant.

John Curtis, a former policeman, and S. O. Hall, still on the force, told of searching the road and a half mile west of where the tragedy occurred, according to Winter. The search took place between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning following the tragedy, and a search was made for broken glass from the coupe in which the couple were riding, and for automobile tracks, showing where a car might have drawn up at the side of the road. No glass and no such tracks were found both men testified adding that such tracks and glass of the same thickness as that in the shattered windows of the coupe were found on a lonely road known known as "Spooner's Road."

On cross-examination both Hall and Curtis said they could not say whether the glass they found was from any particular car nor whether the wheel tracks were made by any special make of car nor whether they had been made that night or several days previous.

EAST ST. LOUIS MAY PAY DEBTS THRU BONDS

Voters of East St. Louis will be called on June 6 to approve or disapprove a bond issue of $454,000, needed to take up numerous obligations of the city, chiefly judgments obtained by those who suffered from the riots.

The matter of taking up these obligations has been thoroughly discussed by business men and property owners with the result that Mayor Stephens and the city commissioners have agreed on this matter and are united in an effort to get a favorable verdict from the voters on the bond issue.

In addition over every mound marking the resting place of a man who died upon the Gettysburg battlefields nearly three score years ago there flew a tiny American flag.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL IS CARRIED OUT

Exercises at Arlington Cemetery Take On New Significance

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 30.—The National Capital's memorial ceremonies for American war dead were colored by a new touch of international significance today at services held in Arlington cemetery under the lead of President Harding.

Speaking in the amphitheatre to veterans of three wars and to officials and diplomats, the president re-dedicated the nation to the cause of freedom and civilization and promised it never would fail to measure up to every demand presented to it in behalf of civilization. By striking across the sea in the world war, he declared, America had sanctified again her faith in free institutions for peoples everywhere.

After the address Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador, seconded the sentiment by placing on the American flag beside the president a wreath of roses presented by the people of the United Kingdom and her dominions "in undimmed memory of the sacrifices that America has made for individual liberty."

President Harding declared America had opened the door to free institutions even in the countries against which she fought. He added that the troubled state of conditions abroad made it doubtful whether the vanquished peoples would "pay the price required to maintain the freedom to which the door has been opened."

Exercises at Arlington

The exercises at Arlington formed the center of the capital's memorial day ceremonies the various smaller gatherings were held. A parade of veterans was also reviewed by the President and Mrs. Harding from the steps of the executive offices and many thousands journeyed to Arlington and other cemeteries to pay their tribute.

One unusual feature was a gathering of survivors of the naval academy class of 1881 to dedicate the graves of their dead class mates. Admiral Baron Sotokichi Uri of the Japanese navy, the only living Japanese graduate was among those who attended. Other members of the class include Secretary Weeks, Admiral H. B. Wilson and Major General George Barnett of the Marine Corps.

In Statuary Hall at the capital, tribute was paid to Roger Williams in a ceremony commemorating his fight for religious freedom and tolerance. The services were held under the auspices of the Beta Zeta Tau fraternity.

Request for permission for presentation of the memorial wreath by Ambassador Geddes reached officials in charge just before the president spoke.

The marine band rendered God Save the King, when the ambassador came forward to speak.

"As ambassador of my king, King George V," said Sir Auckland, "I am in favor of killing them. I say give them another chance. However, we don't have to have exchanges to sell cotton, any more than we have to have exchanges to sell mules. Let us regulate the exchanges further if we can. But if not, let us put the axe to the tree."

Senator Hefflin favored amending the federal reserve law so that the federal reserve board would be compelled to recognize staple cotton as a basis for credit. He urged that President Harding be petitioned to call upon that board to reduce the rediscount rate to four and a half per cent.

NO COMMENT ON RECOGNITION OF MEX REPUBLIC

Action Depends on Answer to Memorandum of Hughes

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 30.—Official comment was withheld tonight on the possibility of early recognition of Mexico in the event President Obregon signs the memorandum presented him by George T. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires at Mexico City.

It was believed officials would maintain silence until the negotiations have been completed and a full report has been received from Mr. Summerlin.

The memorandum is understood to provide for assurances on the part of President Obregon that Americans and their property will be safeguarded in Mexico.

Unless such assurances are given, it was said, recognition would not be extended. Whether signing of the memorandum would pave the way for extending recognition within a few days has not been indicated.

Text of Dispatch

The Moscow dispatch says Lenine has submitted the following written proposition:

"Whereas, in the realization that communism has come to complete bankruptcy and in order to save the idea of communism for the future and find without too big a change of policy the way out of the abyss into which communism has thrown the country it is recognized that unlimited freedom must be allowed capitalism and that the constitutional representatives of the Russian People shall be summoned to resume the work of rebuilding the state."

The dispatch asserts this proposition caused tremendous excitement, but does not say whether it was adopted.

PIER COLLAPSES NO LIVES LOST

Commercial Pier at Ashland, Wisconsin Collapses Allowing Forty Persons to Slide into Water.

(By The Associated Press)
Ashland, Wis., May 30.—Collapse today of the commercial pier, accompanied by the slipping into Ashland Bay of a frame building during a Memorial Day celebration when the pier was crowded with several hundred persons, failed to entail a loss of life.

According to the chief of police, about 40 persons slid into the bay with the collapse of the pier.

A solitary piling projecting from the water stopped the frame building as it was sliding into the cavity, saving the struggling mass of people who were confined by broken planks in the water in a space twenty feet square.

Firemen late this afternoon rescued the small frame building which fell in the collapse without finding any bodies.

No general campaign for Chinese relief has been put on in Morgan county. However, there have been liberal contributions made thru a number of churches and the sum total that the people have given is quite well worthy of the county. However, the need is great in starving China and contributions made there go into a worthy cause.

Hereabouts business conditions have not been counted as especially good—that is—not quite so prosperous as a year ago. Nevertheless if you read Sheriff Weatherford's delinquent tax list you found that it was not any longer than usual. In some localities the list of property sold because of non-payment of taxes this year was very, very long.

A Swedish woman in Chicago who earns her living by laundry work was notified recently that a considerable fortune awaits her thru the death of a relative if she will return to Sweden. "Not for me," she said, "I would rather stay in America and earn my living by hard work than to return to Sweden and have wealth and luxury. "That's the kind of citizenship that the U. S. seeks. No need of Americanization day for this heroine of the washtub.

According to the Chicago Tribune Fred Lundin is the master mind in Illinois politics and holds in his hand the distribution of millions of dollars among thousands of state and Cook county employees. The Tribune has been fighting Lundin long and earnestly but the "master mind" seems to have flourished with this opposition.

Sometimes when you fight a politician thru newspaper publicity you simply furnish a large amount of free advertising. Constant silence is often the best weapon of opposition and the chances are that if the Chicago paper had said less about Lundin and Thompson in the past years these two political leaders would not be as strong as they are today.

After all, a sentence for manslaughter may not be so light as popularly supposed. The release depends not only upon the record made in prison but also on what has been done in the years previous to the crime resulting in conviction. The state's attorney and the trial judge both have something to say about that record.

It is said to be a fact that the statistics prove the average prison term for manslaughter is about three years, whereas the average was lower when sentences were fixed by jury action, as used to be the case.

HONORING THE HEROIC DEAD.

There was a more formal recognition of the nation's debt to its soldiers this year than has been true even in years gone by. This was the case not only in Jacksonville but all over the country. In countless churches Sunday memorial sermons were preached and in many cities statues and tablets were unveiled honoring the heroic dead.

Until the world war these memorial events referred almost solely to the War of the Rebellion, and it was sometimes difficult for the people of the present day to fully sense the debt to the soldiers of the '60's. But with the world war came a newer and keener appreciation of what both war and patriotism mean. For years to come Veterans of Foreign Wars and the men of the American Legion will be forceful in giving to memorial and decoration day events this greater significance. Too much of honor cannot be paid to the soldiers of whatever age.

Every American should breathe Ingersoll's long famous words: "I have but one sentiment for soldiers, living or dead. Cheers for the living and tears for the dead."

MEXICAN RECOGNITION.

The fact that President Obregon has indicated his unwillingness to sign a formal agreement as a condition of recognition of Mexico is by no means conclusive that a complete understanding between that country and the United States will not be reached in the near future. President Harding is exceedingly anxious to reestablish the cordial relations with Mexico that prevailed for so many years previous to the abdication of former President Diaz. It is known at Washington that informal exchanges, between the two governments would not be objectionable to Obregon, and it is thru them that a return of normal conditions is anticipated. Considerable progress toward a solution of the difficulties has already been made. Assurances as to safeguards for foreign investments have been forthcoming from the Mexican government, and public declarations by President Obregon in their support tend to establish the right of Mexico to recognition.

LET IN THE LIGHT.

In this way the Republican Publicity association defends the government's action in publishing the so-called slacker lists. "After the publication of the list of men subject to the draft who were not shown on the records as having responded to the call it developed there was on the list the name of a young man in Chicago who had volunteered and had rendered distinguished service overseas. Upon this disclosure there was a vehement shout of protest against further publication of the list—a protest in which the man of distinguished service did not join. What did he care about the publication—he had been helped, not hurt. In the first place, he didn't know that he was listed as a deserter, and he probably never would have known if the lists had not been printed.

"Moreover, if the discovery had not thus been made, in all probability the record would have stood and a generation or so later there would have been great difficulty if his descendants tried to have the record corrected. Furthermore, the publication of his name called widespread attention to the fact that he had rendered distinguished service a fact known previously to only a relatively few people, his personal friends and his comrades in arms. He got more good than harm out of the publicity, so why should he worry?"

MEMORIAL SERMON BY REV. T. H. TULL

Grace Church Pastor Delivered a Strong Discourse Sunday Morning—Large Attendance of Veterans.

Memorial Day was most fittingly observed in this city with the usual exercises well carried out. At the appointed hour the Woman's Relief Corps and the veterans of the Grand Army met at the hall on East State street and marched to Grace M. E. church where all courtesies were shown them.

The first number on the program, after the organ voluntary by Prof. Pierson, was by Mr. Shoemaker who sang in a fine manner a solo, "In Flanders Field."

The discourse of Rev. T. H. Tull was an able and masterly effort and deserves a much longer report than is practicable. The reverend gentleman took for his text Second Samuel 23:10. "He went down and slew a lion in the midst of a pit in the time of snow."

The speaker dwelt at some length on the inestimable value of the Bible and the duty of every one to read the only infallible guide to the rule and conduct of our lives and our souls' salvation.

Henry Ford said he didn't care for history and when the world war came on his son sat in a chair. All should be 100 per cent American whether born on this side of the ocean or elsewhere. Greece aroused the patriotism of her people by recounting the deeds of her heroes. Her mythological Hercules truly went down into a pit and slew a lion.

Was Mighty Epoch. The declaration of independence and its promulgation witnessed a mighty epoch in the history of the world. The story of Bunker Hill, Lexington, Saratoga Springs, Bennington and Brandywine all have aroused in the hearts of true Americans a sentiment of loyalty. All have been moved to greater patriotism by the tale of the sufferings endured that awful winter at Valley Forge.

Our greatest foes are within. All have read and some remember the days when efforts were made to divide the nation and perpetuate slavery. Then it was that you members of the Grand Army left home and kindred and all that was dear to you. You braved untold hardships and greatest dangers. The bloody battlefield, the long, weary march, the hunger, the weariness, the horrid prison pen, all were bravely endured by you that our country might live undivided and free.

The south fully expected to win. And here let me say, the great rank and file of the southern confederacy were honest in their convictions and thought they were fighting for their homes. Their leaders said the great men of our nation came from the south. Washington and many more were of southern birth—then too they looked for the support of Europe for when our supplies of raw material fell off and their factories closed they would help the confederacy to win but thank God, with all the advantages they had, and they were many, victory was with the right.

Thank God for Lincoln, the brave and true hearted; he too went down into a pit and slew a lion.

What Frederick taught the Great taught Germany a lesson of ruthlessness. Prussia crushed the heart out of France in 1871 and in the great world war she would have crushed the heart out of the world and taken all to herself and who can depict the result had she succeeded.

On the other hand we cannot maintain our isolation. We need not be entangled with foreign alliances but we cannot forego our duty to the world. Like Esther, America has come to the kingdom in a time when she may accomplish the salvation of the world. Our land is great and wealthy but thank God we do not pay any German indemnity.

In the dark days of the world war when the Huns were near Paris, then it was that our brave soldiers rushed in and with resistless valor saved the day. America is the greatest nation of the earth and she must stand for peace. May God help us ever to see our duty and to perform it that we may stand before men as an upright, noble, God fearing people.

—Get a cool summer suit.

—Have us make it from the material you'll select so that you will have a suit that not only is the last word in real comfort, but will hold its shape, and be suitable for any occasion during hot weather.

Goodbye Punctures

This is the reason why. Convulsions make the circumference of a compression inner tube greater than the inner circumference of a casing. When air is pressure is applied the tube comes out round (Cut 2) and is compressed, hence puncture proof. This is a guaranteed fact.

Tulsa "ROAD-PROOF" Castings are now selling at a 20% discount. This means that you can buy a hand-made casing with an added extra mileage guarantee for the same money that others are selling less serviceable casings.

GRACE SUNDAY SCHOOL

The singing of patriotic songs was a special feature of the opening exercises of the school. Miss Grace Terhune of the Illinois Woman's College sang a patriotic song to the delight of the school.

A quartette of Illinois College men sang several of the community songs so popular during the late war. A list of those who had died during the year attending school was read.

Announcement was made of a special Birthday Centenary offering next Sunday, each attendant being expected to bring as many pennies as they are old for the offering. Preparations are being made for observance of Children's Day on the nineteenth of June. The contest which has been pending during the month of May came to a close. The finish was very close and exciting, there being less than four per cent difference among the four high classes. The class of girls taught by Miss Edna Osborne were the winners.

The following classes were strong competitors: Mr. Lents' Dr. Griswold's and Miss Gillham's. According to the contest the class of young men taught by Mr. Lents will entertain the winning class.

I also had blinding, dizzy spells and my kidneys acted irregularly. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills were good, so I tried them. They weren't long in curing me. Since then I have had no kidney trouble."

DECORATION DAY PROGRAM AT FRANKLIN

Day fittingly observed by Program Arranged by American Legion Post — Band Concert Last Night.

Franklin, May 30.—A Decoration Day program of great interest was given in the park here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the arrangements being made by the local American Legion Post, of which Miller Keplinger is the commander. The parade formed at Marquette hall and marched to the park and following the program there the line of march was to the cemetery, where graves of soldier dead were decorated.

A splendid program was given by the Woodson band. Music was also furnished by a quartet including Misses Blanche Harney, Grace Hill, Lou Duncan and Allen Austin. The program included a solo by Miss Blanche Harney and three readings by Miss Grace Roberts. The address of the afternoon was by Dr. Henry Sears, whose fame as a chautauqua speaker is widespread.

Following the program in the park the march to the cemetery was made, the parade being made up of the band, color bearers, color guard, Civil war veterans, firing squad, American Legion, Boy Scouts, citizens in automobiles.

Altogether it was one of the most successful Decoration Day events which has been given in Franklin in recent years, and the attendance was unusually large.

At night a fine program was given by the Woodson band in the park, the numerous selections played delighting a large audience.

MEMORIAL PROGRAM GIVEN AT WINCHESTER

Citizens Unite in Honoring Soldier Dead Monday Afternoon—Eighth Grade Commencement Thursday Evening—Other Winchester News.

Winchester, May 30.—Memorial services were held in the park Monday afternoon and were largely attended. Music for the occasion was furnished by the high school band, who played a number of selections very acceptably. A young men's chorus also furnished a number of very fine selections. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given by James Tankersley, and the main address of the afternoon was by Judge Jenkins of Springfield.

A duet by Misses Loretta and Frances Cooper of Alosey was also included in the program, which closed with "America the Beautiful" by the chorus.

The procession then moved to the cemetery, headed by the band. Next in the line of march were members of the G. A. R., the American Legion, the Curtis-Shankland band, followed by citizens in automobiles. At the cemetery the graves of dead soldiers were decorated, bringing to a close the day's observance.

In Serious Condition. Word was received here Monday that Robert Mason, who was taken to the hospital in Canton Saturday morning, is in a critical condition. Mr. Mason fell at his home Friday morning and sustained a broken limb, and the fact that he is eighty years of age makes the accident the more serious. His many friends are hoping for early news of improvement in his condition.

Mrs. Dunbar, mother and sister of Taylorville, arrived Sunday afternoon to visit Glenn Dunbar of the faculty of the high school. Miss Neil Smith was taken

THREE AMERICANS SURVIVE IN TENNIS

Tilden, Mrs. Mallory and Arnold Jones Are Left—Tilden and Mrs. Mallory Eliminated in Doubles.

ST. CLOUD, May 30.—The defeat of Mrs. Mollie Bjursted Mallory, American women's singles tennis champion and William T. Tilden, world's grass court champion, by Miss Holman and J. T. Baines of England in the mixed doubles of the world's hard court championships today completed a disastrous day for the American team members.

All except Mrs. Mallory, Arnold Jones and Tilden were eliminated, although Tilden started the day auspiciously by putting out W. C. Crawley, the best bet of the British team, in the men's singles. Tilden's form was not convincing. He was sluggish and uncertain in his play, which was further emphasized by the manner in which he played in the mixed doubles.

Only American Survivors. The defeat of Mrs. Mallory and Tilden came as the biggest surprise as victory for the American team had been looked upon as a foregone conclusion. The only American survivors now are Tilden in the men's singles, Mrs. Mallory in the women's singles and Tilden and Arnold Jones in the men's doubles.

The day was a bad one for tennis playing. It was blistering hot at the opening of the matches at 2 o'clock this afternoon and then occasional heavy showers made the courts heavy. When Tilden and Mrs. Mallory played the last game a cold wind swept across the court.

After his match with Crawley, Tilden complained of soreness in his arm and also an attack of indigestion which bothered him a great deal thru his practice. He appears unable to get used to French cooking.

The Laurens-Alonzo match was replete with brilliant and desperate playing. Alonzo made a great recovery after losing the first two sets. He took the next two although the French champion was once within one point of winning the match.

For the first time in the history of tennis in France royalty was represented when Princess Kaputhala and Prince Bharpur Singh of India won the mixed doubles by default from Mlle Speranza of France and M. Ashlangul of Armenia.

MEMORIAL DAY IS
FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Exercises Both Afternoon and Evening of Impressive Character—Many Take Part in Parade in Afternoon.

Decoration day, May 30, 1921
was a grand success in Jacksonville. All went well from first to last; the exercises at Calvary and Diamond Grove cemeteries; the magnificent line of march in the evening, the superior exercises at Centenary church, the grand procession to Jacksonville cemetery and the exercises there were in keeping with the occasion in which the first time veterans of the Civil war were joined by the men who served in the late great conflict.

Early in the morning flowers
began to arrive at the Shoe Shop
as requested and a table was spread under the trees in Central park and there they prepared and tied the blossoms which were to go to the respective graves. A good procession wended its way
first to Calvary cemetery. S. W.
Nichols, past commander of Matt
Starr post, was designated by Commander Schaub to take charge and the beautiful ritual of the order was carried out at both cemeteries.

At Calvary cemetery by the grave of Mr. English Rev. W. H.
Marbach spoke in brief as follows:

"This is indeed a significant day when we gather to honor the memories of the heroes of '61,
'98 and '18. We must not, we dare not forget the men who gave their lives in their country's cause. It is a holy sacrament which we must ever remember.
The flag is an emblem of our noble inheritance and we must never forget our duty to the brave men who have sustained and defended it against all manner of foes and have never let it trail in the dust. We fittingly express our feelings in flowers and our love for the ones who devoted themselves to the cause of freedom. As we strew these graves today our hearts are solemn and yet it should not be a day of weeping but rather a day of triumph for the glorious victory accomplished by our brave defenders. We want no crepe but a crown on the brows of heroes
of the country's wars.

"Wagner sounded a melancholy
note in his music for such occasions but Shakespeare always put forth the shout of victory even if his hero fell on the field and so we should think of the men who gave their lives for the country with a feeling of exaltation over the mighty victory they accomplished.

Day of Dedication.
This is truly a day of dedication too; a day when we should be inspired by the example of these fallen ones to renew our devotion to our country. These men did not die in vain but the nation with all its grandeur is the fruit of their efforts."

The audience then adjourned
to Diamond Grove cemetery
where again the ritual was carried out by the grave of Capt.
Swales. Here Very Rev. Dean
Formaz was the orator and said
in part:

"In 1861 the sun rose on a nation on this continent which was divided. There was no United States government and it took four years of war; of untold hardships and sacrifices; of vast sums of treasure and blood to demonstrate to the world that this nation is a union now and forever, one and inseparable."

"In 1898 our nation went to war
to drive from our continent a government which was tyrannizing
over a helpless and crushed people and nobly the work was done.

"Again the nation sprang to arms in 1917 and 18 and as one man united in opposing the ruthless and cruel end to encompass the doom of heartless imperialism and vile tyranny and insatiable greed. An oppressor who would fain control the whole world was overcome and tyranny
was silenced.

Tribute to Justice White.
A short time since the nation
mourned the loss of Chief Justice White, as one of the greatest men in the nation. In his youth he mistakenly enlisted in the army of the Confederacy but he lived to see the mistake of that organization and to become one of the greatest figures in the land.

"Had it not been for the sacrifice of the brave heroes of 1861-5
we would have no United States;
no free government but slavery
with all its evils would have triumphed and so it is our sacred duty to honor the memories of these brave men who saved the land for us to enjoy. The greatest tribute of respect is silence.
It is vain for us to boast of what we have and enjoy but like the immortal Lincoln, we should consecrate ourselves to the completion of the work these brave men so nobly began. No matter what may be our position we should see that we are true American citizens; citizens of a nation that stands not for might but for right."

Taps was sounded by Leonard Potter of the legion and echoes
by Albert McCarty and Donald Cassell, boy scouts. A squad from the American Legion then fired a salute and the benediction
by Very Rev. Dean Formaz ended
the exercises at that place.

All then repaired to a grave of a legion soldier where the ritual
of that order was carried out.
Capt. Harmon officiating. Taps was sounded here and Capt.
Harmon read the names of departed veterans of the World war and a resolution that they be named posthumous members of the local branch of the legion.

At both cemeteries the graves of Civil and World war veterans were duly remembered and exercises were ended.

The Parade.
The parade in the afternoon was the largest and finest that has been witnessed in many years on such an occasion. All gathered at the academy grounds and in due season the march was begun.
The following was the line:

In the parade were:
A squad of police.
City fire trucks.
City officials.
Company K, Illinois National Guard.

Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, including veterans from the Jacksonville State hospital.

Patriotic citizens driving decorated automobiles.

World war veterans of the vocational training school, Jacksonville.

The Jacksonville band, under leadership of J. Bart Johnson.

Jacksonville World war veterans in uniform.

An army caisson attached to mules,
a typical army outfit.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts in uniform, bearing flags.

De Silva's Drum corps, headed by a drum-major.

Students of Illinois college, carrying flags.

Other decorated automobiles
carrying persons to the church
followed, making a long column
of patriotic colors.

The line made a fine appearance. William Peters and Sam Challins, the marshals did their duty well under the leadership of L. A. Cain. An impressive feature of the parade was a platoon
of veterans of the Civil war.

There were some 31 or 32 in line
and their grey heads and slow motions showed that they would not repeat the effort many more times thought they were cheerful and passed many jokes about the days gone by.

Arriving at Centenary church the veterans, relief corps and World war veterans all occupied seats provided for them.

The program as published was carried out. S. W. Nichols presided at the request of Commander Schaub and announced the numbers. All were well done, the music and all else pleased everyone.

Address by Rev. D. V. Gowdy.

Rev. D. V. Gowdy was the orator of the day and delivered a fine
address which was well received. He said in part:

"This is a golden day when a grateful nation unites in honoring the memory of its heroes and we perform the ceremony of strewing the graves of the departed with flowers we should also remember our duty to the living. There is no glory in a war unless it is in the cause of the right when it is waged for good, for revenge, for gain is deplorable and evil only. There are times in a nation's history
when war is justifiable; when it is right to defend our principles
and a heroic duty.

"In the early days of the land
the colonists had to fight for existence; they had to wrangle with hard conditions and they gave us a heritage which is of vast importance and of priceless value. They bequeathed us liberty; the public school; the prosperous land we inhabit and our debt to them is incalculable.

"We greatly honor the men who fought from 1861 to '65. They are entitled to our admiration
and honor.

"We cannot comprehend what the struggle of four years meant;
the battles of sickness, the wounds, the weary marches, the hunger and thirst, the prison pens
and weary days in the hospitals;
all were bravely endured by these men whom we honor today and whose graves we decorate.

"I know some who bear in their bodies the mark of the dreadful war; who suffer frequently from these ills and yet bravely bear them. Little too can we comprehend what it meant to the noble
women of those days of war. Days when husband, father, brother or lover was given up. How they watched the reports from the battles and how eagerly they scanned
the lists of killed, wounded or missing. I knew a man who was conversing with a boy whose father was killed at Vicksburg and who said they didn't know where he was buried. The man said he knew what had become of that body but had not the heart to tell the family.

A United Land.
"You worthy veterans can be cheered by the fact that your sons and the sons of the men who were arrayed against you are now united and in the war of '98 and the great world's conflict fought bravely side by side for the united land. You went to war and came home having saved the union, freed the slave and established the fact that this is a nation, a union now and forever,
one and inseparable. Your sons served their land in the Philippines, in Cuba and the greatest of all in the mighty world war.

"You opened before the slave
the temple of liberty and in the young men of the American Legion I see you as you went forth
many years ago to fight bravely
as they fought. Often we wonder what we shall do when the last veteran of the Civil war is laid away. Truly we should honor the memory of all.

Heroes of World War.
"And the new heroes; the heroes of the world war, came home with honor imperishable. Their faces were ever toward the foe
and the last resting places of their departed ones we lovingly decorate today. These heroes are an example to us all and their conduct a noble incentive to every one to more and more faithful to duty."

A tribute to the departed veterans of the world war was then read by Capt. Harmon and after singing "America," the audience
adjourned to Jacksonville cemetery where the regular ritual of the Grand Army was carried out by Commander John A. Schaub officiating. After these exercises and the playing of taps and echo
the benediction was pronounced by Rev. D. V. Gowdy and then the audience adjourned to a grave of a veteran of the World war,
where the ritual of the American Legion was carried out, taps were sounded and a salute fired and the exercises of the day ended with the decoration of graves.

Notes.
The union of veterans of two wars was very well and served to make the day a success.
All the orators of the day are to be commended on the superior character of their remarks and the sensible brevity they practiced.

The music of the band and De-Silva's drum corps was excellent.

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annoying symptoms
such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat
flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years
of perfect health
may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

TOMMY MILTON WINS INDIANAPOLIS RACE

World Champion Speed Racer Finished in Front After DePalma Is Forced Out by Mechanical Trouble—Winner Gets Nearly $30,000

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Tommy Milton, world champion speed racer, piloted an American car today to the finish line first in the ninth renewal of the International racing classic, the 500 mile dash around the Indianapolis speedway. Milton's victory came thru a beautifully driven race which was won after DePalma had set such a terrific pace during the first 250 miles that all but one foreign made car, including his own, were forced from the track thru mechanical troubles or minor accidents.

Of the 23 entrants, only eight completed the 500 miles and seven were American made machines. Ralph Mulford, driving another American but machine, was awarded ninth position without finishing after all the others had dropped by the wayside.

Establishes New Record

Milton established a new track record for cars of not more than 153 cubic inches piston displacement by completing the 500 miles in five hours, 34 minutes and 44.65 seconds for an average of 89.62 miles per hour. The victory brought him nearly $30,000 in prize money, $20,000 for first place, $6,200 in lap prizes and the balance in special prizes given by accessory companies.

Less than four minutes behind Milton came Roscoe Scales, who had fought a bitter race with DePalma in the early hours and who held second position most of the way. The race began with DePalma at the pole and he soon jumped into a lead. His speed kept him well to the front, altho Scales and Joe Boyer forced him into a terrific pace during the early laps. Boyer soon dropped behind thru loss of time at the pits, but Tom Alley jumped to the fore and helped Scales rush DePalma. Gradually Italy's representative increased his lead and at the half way point he was more than two laps to the good.

Boyer, who raced alongside of DePalma, altho actually six laps behind from the fiftieth lap on, had started a series of sprints which taxed DePalma's car to keep in front and at the 101st lap DePalma swung into the pits. His engine had been missing for several laps, but after a quick change of plugs he rushed back on the bricks still ahead of Milton who had forged up to second.

Another trip to the pits lost him ground, a third visit left him almost on even terms with Milton and finally the leader swung to the side of the track and ordered his car to the garage where it was found a connecting rod was broken. DePalma had won $10,600 in lap prizes.

Milton quickly swung to the front. He had made one trip to the pits for a change of tires and signaled his mechanics he would make one more for gas. A second stop was timed so nicely that he was off the speedway only 25 seconds.

The terrific pace set by DePalma, which established new track records up to the first 100 miles, was given by experts as the reason for so many cars being forced out. Accidents were few and none was serious but cars often fell by the wayside with mechanical trouble.

Louis Fontaine gave the spectators a real thrill when his car turned turtle on the north turn, hanging on the edge over the heads of hundreds of persons. Jimmy Murphy skidded completely around at the same turn and was replaced by another driver. Murphy later went back in the race in another car.

Aside from Milton the work of Young Ellingboe attracted considerable attention. The Crookston, Minn., pilot, driving on a brick track for the first time, made a great showing until forced out in the 49th lap. Later he replaced Percy Ford and brought the latter's car from tenth position to third at the finish. He was nine laps behind the winner.

The other finishers crossed the line in the following order: Jimmy Murphy, (replaced Eddie Miller) fourth.

Ora Halse, fifth.

Joe Boyer (replaced Guyot) sixth.

Ira Vail, seventh.

Ralph Mulford, eighth.

Halse's English built car was the only foreign machine to finish.

BOSTON TAKES BOTH GAMES FROM DODGERS

Win Morning Game By Score of 9 to 3—Afternoon Game Goes Sixteen Innings Before Boston Finally Won.

Boston, May 30.—Boston took both games from Brooklyn today the former 4 to 3, the latter six to five in a sensational second day sixteen inning affair. Hood broke the afternoon 3 to 3 tie in the fourteenth by lining a terrific home run off McQuillan to right centerfield. A pass by Cadore to Christonbury, Gibson's single and Powell's single tied it for Boston in its half. With men in first and third and two out in the sixteenth Oeschger made a balk towards the plate, allowing Hood to score. Powell's triple and Barbare's single accounted for the tying and winning runs in Boston's half. The score:

CARPENTIER STEPS OUT OF FIGHTING ROLE

Appears as War Veteran, Pilgrim and Spectator—Decorates Soldiers' Graves and Put Wreath Upon Roosevelt's Grave—Then Sees Boxing Bout.

Manhasset, N. Y., May 30.—Stepping out of the role of the fighter, Georges Carpentier today appeared as war veteran, pilgrim and spectator.

Rising early the challenger spent a short period at callisthenics, then breakfasted. At seven o'clock he officiated at a flag raising on his lawn and hoisted the stars and stripes and the tricolor to twin mast heads.

"I always have loved the one and have learned to love the other," he said.

Carpentier motored into Manhasset and placed upon the graves of five war heroes a small bunch of flowers, tied with the tri-color of France and crested with a small American flag.

Accompanied by Descamps, his manager, he then went by train to Oyster Bay and placed upon the grave of Theodore Roosevelt, a blanket of red, white and blue flowers. This floral offering was tied with a huge red, white and blue ribbon.

Witnesses Boxing Bout.

Returning to the camp, Georges lunched, then with his sparring partners, manager, trainer, Tex Rickard, the promoter and several personal friends, motored to Ebbets field, Brooklyn, where he witnessed the afternoon boxing show.

As he walked to a ringside box he was cheered for several minutes. He appeared very much pleased and to Mr. Rickard he said:

"It is great; I am glad they like me."

Before the final bout started Georges stepped into the ring and was cheered for five minutes.

SEED CORN—We have had a wonderful season at Mason City
this year for maturing seed corn with the result that we have the finest lot of well dried 1920 crop of seed corn that we have ever grown. This corn is gathered early in the fall and placed on drying racks where it is slowly dried down to twelve or fourteen per cent moisture content. This gives corn of very high vitality.
We have been in the seed corn
business in a large way for over thirteen years and have the largest and best equipped drying plant in the world. Our down town plant is in the center of Mason City, right on the hard road between Springfield and Peoria.
It is well worth a trip to Mason City to see this corn. Price is only $3.50 per bushel. Write for beautifully illustrated catalogue.

HOPPER & SON

AN IMPRESSIVE DISCOURSE

Sunday morning at the Congregational church, Rev. George N. Stikney delivered a deeply impressive discourse on the subject, "Lest We Forget." The theme was the fearful sacrifice made necessary by the world war and the lessons to be learned from them. The gentleman himself was a brave defender of his country serving in the trenches. While he made no reference to his own deeds he was able to portray the scenes of the awful conflict in glowing terms.

Without any hatred or malice he urged upon his hearers the greatness of the sacrifices made; the cost in human life and awful suffering and consequences following the conflict and the lessons to be learned and he eloquently pressed home the all important lesson that amid all our duties, pleasures and daily activities we should not forget what our country's freedom from the rule of the Hun cost us and we should appreciate it and try to spread the gospel of the Redeemer which would make such events impossible.

FATHER FORMAZ IS A DEAN OF THE DIOCESE

Elevation of Jacksonville Priest Made Known—Five Counties in His Jurisdiction.

Announcement has just been made of the appointment of Rev. Father Formaz to be dean of the Alton diocese of the Catholic church. The appointment was made by the Right Rev. James Ryan, bishop of the diocese. The honor is signal because of the fact that such appointments are usually made only on the basis of seniority and there are a number of the clergy in the diocese who are older than Father Formaz.

There are several deans in the diocese and their duty is general supervision over the clergy of the diocese. Very Reverend Dean Formaz will have under his charge the clergy in the counties, Morgan, Scott, Jersey, Greene and Calhoun.

The late Very Reverend Dean Crow was for 24 years dean in this diocese, and the late Very Reverend Dean Maroney was dean for four years.

Very Rev. Dean Formaz came to Jacksonville twenty years ago and his devotion to the work of the church has given him a constantly widening sphere of influence. He has the name of being broad-minded as well as zealous and counts among his friends many people in this locality who are not members of his church.

CELEBRATES HIS 51ST S. S. ANNIVERSARY

The 51st anniversary of Rev. John W. Kirk's Sunday school life and work was well celebrated at Bethel A. M. E. church Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large audience. The church choir ably assisted in the program singing through the exercises a number of selections most capably. Another delightful feature of the occasion was the music by the little folks who sang most acceptably a number of times.

Mr. Kirk told how fifty-one years ago he had entered the school a mischievous boy; how Mr. Nichols, the superintendent, had set him down forcibly a number of times and made him behave, and taught him his letters and helped him along in the right way.

Misses Grace Thorp and Letty Brannon then raised the folds of a U. S. flag and under it stood Mrs. Lucy Holden, forty years a teacher, and James Mathews, many decades a scholar.

Miss Mabel Gregory then most kindly favored the audience with a solo, "The Prodigal Son," sung in her highly finished and capable manner, greatly to the delight of all, after which S. W. Nichols was called on. He told of his 55 years' association with the school, of the hardships of the early days, the night school when the colored people were not admitted to the public schools, ... saints who had gone to their rest, the little mischievous boy they called Johnny Kirk, who learned his letters at that time, and to read the Holy Word, and the wonderful progress made by the church, in all of which Mr. Kirk had had a part.

Ellis Moore, a life long friend of Mr. Kirk, spoke words of greeting and told of many incidents of early days; V. H. Sheppard, for Mr. Finley, gave the greetings of the Y. M. C. A. in a fine address. Alexander Rose gave a recitation in an excellent manner and Rev. R. H. Hackley, the efficient pastor, made some excellent remarks pertinent to the occasion. He also told of the great effort now on to clear the church debt and asked for a contribution and twenty dollars was the generous response to his request.

The meeting closed with a song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."
